Dear [Redacted]

Charlie Hillee dropped me a line the other day in which he mentioned that you might be interested in having a talk with me and some of my associates. If so, I should be very glad at your convenience to talk with you. I should rather like to do this here in Washington, as I get to New York only on very rare, and generally hurried, occasions, but if this is not convenient, I could give you a ring the next time I am in New York.

Charlie recalled to me, and I well remember, our meeting in 1949 at [Redacted] apartment.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Charlie:

Many thanks for your letter about I should like very much to see him and talk with him.

Frankly, at the moment, as we are endeavoring to build up a career service, we are not taking on many people in the older age group, but there are always exceptions, and your friend is a child compared to me. Also, your friend seems to have very particular qualifications in many fields of interest to us. I shall be in touch with him, and thank you for writing.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) ALLEN W. DULLES
